

NZ Ukulele Festival 2009

Songwriting Workshops Saturday 12 September 2009

Workshop 1: 12:30pm – 2:00pm

Songwriting for primary and secondary school students presented by Kevin Fogarty
New Zealand's Mr Ukulele, Kevin Fogarty is the founder of the NZ Ukulele Festival. Kevin is a musician, children's song-writer and music teacher. His "Kiwi Ukulele" is the theme song for the NZ Ukulele Festival and is being played and sung by schools all over NZ. Kevin will instill you with the belief that anyone can have a go at writing songs for the ukulele.

Workshop participants will receive a free CD and booklet of Kevin's original songs

Workshop 2: 2:30pm – 4:00pm

Songwriting for adults presented by The Nukes

2008 was a busy year with The Nukes presenting a series of concerts which included a thrilling appearance at the 2008 Ukulele Festival, where Ben was awarded APRA top Uke Song of the Year for 'Peas and Carrots'. During the first half of 2009 The Nukes have continued to entertain audiences up and down the North Island with their charming blend of comedy, devastating harmonies, musical talent and original songs. The Nukes performances and workshops are fun and engaging.

Venue: Music Auditorium, Epsom Campus, Faculty of Education

(B Block, Gate 3, 78 Epsom Ave, Auckland)

Cost per person includes entry to both workshops:

- ♪ $20 per adult
- ♪ $10 per full-time student
- ♪ $70 per school (4 or more teachers and students from the same school)

Our grateful thanks to APRA/AMCOS and to Auckland City Council - Creative Communities for their assistance in funding these workshops. All profits will be donated to the 2009 NZ Ukulele Festival
